TRIMMING YOUR DOG'S NAILS

It's the area of the nail that contains a blood vessel and nerves. If cut, it will be painful and bleed.

CORN STARCH FAVOURITE TREATS! YOU WILL NEED 1

DOG NAIL CLIPPERS

(in case the blood vessel is cut by accident)

(to make the experience as positive as possible)

STEPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL NAIL TRIM

Naturally, dogs don't like having their paws touched. Get them use to the feeling by handling their paws daily. This shouldn't be longer than 5 seconds at a time. You can give them treats right after!

STEP

Push back the dog's hair to expose the nail.

Cut the nail right before the quick. In white nails, the quick appears pink. In black nails, you will have to visualize its approximate location. It is wise to cut little by little.

On your first try, do not attempt to cut all the nails at once. This could be tedious and create a negative experience. Start with one nail and reward your dog afterwards.

Hidden Nail

In dogs with longer haircoats, this nail is often forgotten and can become a problem as it starts to curl and grow towards the skin. DON'T FORGET IT!

If it takes a week to do all four paws, so be it!

YOU CUT THE QUICK AND NOW IT'S BLEEDING- WHAT DO YOU DO?

- Don't panic! Apart from being a bit painful, this isn't a big deal.
- Put some corn starch in a small container and press the bleeding nail into it.
- Leave it for 30 seconds, until the starch sticks to the nail and forms a paste.
 - Leave it on. This will stop the bleeding.
